

A close-up photograph of a brown rabbit sitting on a dark, textured blanket. The rabbit is looking slightly to the left of the camera.

Give a rescue bunny the home they've always dreamed of

Adoption Application

If you urgently need to surrender a rabbit, and we don't have any appointments available, please call us at \(208\) 971-9401.

Ending Bunny Homelessness in the Treasure Valley

Save a Bun Rabbit Rescue's number one goal is saving the stray and homeless bunnies in the Treasure Valley and keeping more bunnies from being abandoned. It's a tragic misconception that like their wild counterparts, domestic rabbits can survive on their own. Once dumped, a pet bunny will quickly become food, and if multiple bunnies are abandoned together, they can start a feral colony.

To prevent this, we always say yes to people wanting to

Jenean holding a bunny she rescued surrender their rabbits, spay/neuter our bunnies to avoid contributing to rabbit over-population, and venture out on late-night rescue trips to catch and save stray bunnies.

Where We Help

We're located in Nampa, Idaho and service most of Idaho. We're also happy to adopt rabbits out to anyone located in Idaho or nearby.

Location

Nampa, Idaho

Follow

Facebook

Instagram

Contact

saveabunrabbitrescue@gmail.com

\(208\) 971-9401971-9401)